THE PEACE TERMS.

Japan Gets All She Asked But Cuts Down the Indemnity.

THE IMPERIAL EDICT CONFIRMS

Reports and Sets at Rest Conflicting Rumors-The Effect of the Settlement of the Trouble-A Significant Omission in the Edict-Japans Occupation of Port Arthur Only Tem-

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17 .- The Chinese imperial edict is accepted among officials and diplomats here as setting at rost the conflicting reports as to the final terms of peace. The indemnity of 200,000,000 taels is a compromise. Japan at first demanded 300,000,000 taels, but on the solicitation of Prince Li, threw off 100,000,000. At the Chinese logation it is stated that the tael varies in value, but that the present value of the customs or treasury tael, which is undoubtedly the one in which payment will be made, is $1.50 in Mexican silver, or about 75 cents in in Mexican (silver, or about 75 cents in gold. This would make the indemnity equivalent to $300,000,000 Mexican eilver, or $150,000,000 in gold. The Mexican trade dollar is the current coin of China, and the basis of calculation, so that the belief is very strong, though information on the subject is lacking, that the payment will be in silver.

The edict that Japan is to occupy the Liao Tung peninsula up to the fortieth degree of latitude settler the important point that she is to have the great fortress of l'ort Arthur and the immediate surrounding territory. The Liao Tung point that she is to have the great fortress of l'ort Arthur and the immediate surrounding territory. The Liao Tung peninsula is a small point of land jutting southward into the Gulf of Pechili, with Port Arthur as its extreme point. The fortieth degree of latitude cuts across the mainland, where the little peninsula broadens into the mainland of Manchuria. This lower peninsula has the shape of a sword, and is known as "Recent's Sword." The edict does not state whether Japan gets this acquisition permanently or until the indemnity is paid. She has contended on having it permanently, as it would give Japan command of the Gulf of Pechili leading to Pekin. If the occupation is temporary it will give Japan a military command over China as long as the occupation lasts.

The permanent occupation of the island of Formosa has been settled for some time. The opening of Pekin and four new ports to commerce marks the introduction of modern methods into the interior of China. Japan has cained the privilege of establishing her cotton and other factories in China, but it remains to be seen whether Japanese capital will invest in these enterprises, or mains to be seen whether Japanese capital will invest in these enterprises. the Chinese will buy these modern fabthe Chinese will buy these modern lab-ries.

The edict makes a significant omission as to the reported Japan-China alliance, offensive and defensive, which, if con-summated, would have given the 'orient to the orientals.' The Japanese and Chinese officials in Washington have never credited the report of this alli-

YOKOHAMA, April 17.—The Jiji newspaper states that the terms of the peace concluded between China and Japan inthe Yalu river to the Liao river on the southern portion of the Liao Tung peninsula, on which Port Arthur and the Regents Sword are situated, and including Yinkow Hai Cheng and Chu Lien Cheng; also the island of Formora and the Pengaragara industry. Cheng; also the island of Formoza and the Peacadores islands; an indemnity of 200,000,000 taels, payable in six years; the abolition of Chinese extra territoriality; the preservation of Japanese extra territoriality, and certain commercial privileges for Japan.

BRONZE STATUES.

The New York Justice Holds That the Exhibitions Are Not Indecent.

New York, April 17.—The bronze statue case, arising out of the exhibition of living pictures at the Casino came up to-day in the court of special sessions before Police Justices Feitner, Hogan and Meade.

Rudolph Aronson, manager of the Casino, and Miss Bessie Stanton, Perham Nahl and Otto Kohler, the models, were the defendants. Detectives Rogers and Titus, the witnesses for the prosecution, described what they saw at the theatre du the night of March 21. They admitted, however, that the bronze paint covering was less suggestive and indecent than tights. Counsel for the defendants moved for their discharge on the ground that the charge of "outraging public decency" was not

The justices conferred and Justice Feitner, who presided, announced that the case was dismissed.

GAMBLERS NOT EXEMPT.

They Must Pay the Income Tax as Other People Do.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 17 .- The commissioner of internal revenue has sus tained Deputy Collector Desha Breckinridue's ruling regarding the payment of income tax on winnings from races, poker, roulet, etc. The commissioner says: "Monies from the pool box, etc., should be included as income for the year in which received, and no deduc-tion can be allowed for money lost at gaming."

THE INCOME TAX.

The Government's View of the Petition for a Rehearing of the Cases.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17 .- The ttorney general to-day filed in the United States supreme court a memorandum for the consideration of the justices, giving the government's view on the petition for a rehearing of the on the petition for a robearing of the income tax question filed by the opponents of the law. The government's memorandum is as follows:

"Charles Pollock, appellant, vs. the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company et al; Lewis II. Hyde, appellant, vs. the Continental Trust Company of the city of New Yorket al, on petition for rehearing. The United States respectfully represents that, if a rehearing is granted in the above entitled cases, the rehearing should cover all the legal and constitutional questions involved, and not merely those as to which the court are equally divided.

(1) Whether a tax on incomes generally, inclusive of rents and interests or dividends from investments of all kinds, is or is not a direct tax within the meaning of the federal constitution is a matter upon which, as an original question, the government, hes really is a matter upon which, as an original question, the government has really never been heard.

Its position at the argument was that the question had been settled—by an exposition of the constitution practical-ly contemporaneous with its adoption ly contemporaneous with its adoption— by a subsequent unbroken line of judi-cial procedents—by the concurring and repeated action of all the departments of the government—and by the con-sensus of all text writers and authorities by whom the subject has herotoforo been considered.

(2) The importance to the govern-ment of the new views of its taxing power, announced in the opinion of the chief justice, can hardly be exag-gerated.

First, Pushed to their logical conclusion, they practically exclude from the direct operation of the power of all its invested personal property. They exclude it because, if realty and personalty are taxable only by the rule of apportionment, the inevitable inequalities resulting from such a plan of taxation are so gross and flagrant as to be absolutely debar and resort to it.

That such inequalities must result is

That such inequalities must result is practically admitted, the only sugges-tion in reply being that the power to directly tax realty and personalty was not meant for use as an ordinary, every day power; that the United States was expected to rely for its customary revenues upon duties, imposts and excises; and that it was meant it should impose direct taxes only in extraordinary emergencies and as a sort of dernier re-

Second, Though of minor consequence, it is certainly relevant to point out that, if the new exposition of the constitution referred to is to prevail, constitution referred to is to prevail, the United States has under previous income tax laws collected vast sums of money which on every principle of it ought to refund, and which it must be assumed that Congress will deem itself bound to make provision for refunding by appropriate legislation.

Respectfully submitted,

Regread Olney,

Attorney General.

A "PASSIVE BLOCKADE."

The British Instructions to War Vessels Concerning the Nicaragua Affair. Washington, April 17.—Officials here profess to have no information as yet to the instructions sent to British war vessels for the enforcement of the ultimatum against Nicaragua. Those in a position to understand the status of affairs, however, express the belief that the British instructions are on the following lines: First—There shall be no exercise of force which will affect the commerce or interest of the United States or her citisens or of other foreign countries.

Second—The exercise of force shall be confined to the execution of a "passive blockade" of Nicaragua ports, according to the established rules for that managements.

to the established files for that maneuver.

The "passive blockade" is designed to cripple the internal commerce of Nicaragua and yet to leave all foreign commerce to proceed as usual. It does not contemplate any overt act, or any seizure or detention of property. But the warships bring to a standstill the local or coasting trade and keep it thus per or coastwise trade and keep it thus paror coastwist trace and keep it thus paralyzed until a satisfactory response is given. The merchant ships of the United States and other countries would be free to come and go and care would be taken that no cause should be given for United States intervention on the ground that United States interests were in ignorary. The last time this were in jeopardy. The last time this "passive blockade" was executed, was "passive blockade" was executed, was against Greece ten years are. At that time the allied powers of Europe, except France, agreed to suppress the action of Greece in beginning war on Turkey. The various countries sent warships, which blockaded Greeian ports and held'all coast commerce in check until Greece visided.

and held'all coast commerce in check until Greece yielded.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, British ambas-sador, was at the state department at noon, but it was said the visit was not in reference to the Nicaraguan situation, as the British foreign office is dealing directly with Nicaragua.

The picture is drawn originally upon a paper ruled off into small squares, each about one-tenth of an inch in diameter. Each vertical line is numbered along the upper margin and every horizontal line is lettered down the side. Every square is therefore the side. the Week Ending Monday, April 15. The Weather,-The temperature during the past week has been below the normal in all sections. Frosts occurred generally on the 11th, with heavy frosts and freezing weather on the 10th and 11th throughout the mountain districts and freezing weather on the 10th and 11th throughout the monatain districts. Snow and hail were reported from several places on the 13th and 14th. The week's rainfall was very unevenly distributed, ranging from .10 lach at Parkersburg to 2.82 inches at Grafton. The largest totals for the week reported were, Grafton, 2.82; Beverly, 2.70; Hinton, 2.62, and Morgantown, 1.05 inches. Apparently the rainfall in the mountains was much greater than in the valley districts, the amounts reported from the latter being less than an lach.

Less than the usual amount of sunshine was received, the days having been prevailingly cloudy and cool.

Effection the Crops.—While the week's weather has on the whole been unfavorable, rapid germination and growth, vegetation is steadily pushing forward, and the condition of the crops, owing to the prevailing latoness of spring warmth, is such as to enable them to withstand the frests and freezing weather. Hence, while quite severe frests have been reported, but little damage has been done. Wheat and grass continue in good condition and are growing steadily, but sunshine is needed. Most of the oats crop has been sown and some is above ground. Potato planting and gardens have been about finished, but the cool, damp weather has retarded growth.

Plowing for corn has been pushed wherever the ground has been dry enough, and it is said some corn will be planted during the coming week.

Proposition to Create the State of Superior out of Parts of Three States.

CHICAGO, April 17 .-- A special from West Superior, Wis., says: It is seriously proposed here to create a new state by taking a part of the three states of Minnesots, Wisconsin and Michigan, which will be known as the state of Superior.
What is simed at is to place the three

What is aimed at is to place the three great fron ranges, the Vermillion, Mesaba and Gogebic, in one state, so that the interests of none of them could be injured by conflicting legislation and all might be treated from the same basis.

The new state would be one of the richest in the union; it would have more than 500 miles of water front and contain "the head lakes" harbor, which is the gateway for the trade and commerce of the northwest.
